

DOMESTIC SCIENCE SCHOOL WILL OPEN AT 1:30 TOMORROW

Lecturers, Demonstrators, and Exhibits Arrive Here in Special Cars Today.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the doors of the Arcade Auditorium, Fourteenth street and Park road, will be opened, and the Times and McClure publications will welcome the housewives of Washington to the Westfield Pure Food, Domestic Science, and Household Appliance Exposition.

The exposition, admission to which will be free, through coupons printed in the Times and the distribution of tickets by Washington grocers, will continue at the Arcade Auditorium all this week, with two performances each day.

The doors will open at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon for housewives who wish to attend the cooking school lessons conducted by Sherwood P. Snyder and Mrs. Snyder, and at 7 o'clock for the evening performance, which will consist of moving pictures and demonstrations at all of the pure food booths.

None to Be Disappointed.
Announcement was made today that if any housewife in Washington has been unable to obtain a coupon or ticket she will be supplied with a ticket by any one of the officials who will be in charge at the Arcade Auditorium all week. This arrangement has been made so as to prevent disappointing any housewife who wishes to avail herself of the wonderful advantages of this educational exposition.

That the first cooking school lesson and demonstrations at the pure food booths will start on time was assured today when the two special cars carrying the exhibits arrived at Union Station. One of the special cars brought Prof. Snyder, Mrs. Snyder, and the officials, ticket takers, and workmen of the exposition. The exposition travels with an intact organization, providing its own men to install the exhibits, its ticket takers, ushers, and other officials.

The second car was loaded with the portable white and gold booths in which the pure food exhibits will be shown, and the pure food products. Several large boxes contained the exhibits which compose "The Chamber of Horrors," a large collection of doctored, misbranded and adulterated foods which have been pronounced unsuitable for human consumption, but which are still on sale in many cities.

Hall a Pure Food City.
The car was unloaded immediately after its arrival and its contents quickly taken to the Arcade Auditorium, where the large force of workmen at once began converting the hall into a "White and Gold Pure Food City." The foreman of the force said the work of installing the exhibits would be completed in good time for the opening of the exposition tomorrow.

This exposition, which The Times feels fortunate in obtaining for the National Capital, consists of a cooking school, the lessons in which are invaluable to housewives, a pure food display selected by the world's greatest authority on pure food, Prof. Lewis B. Allyn; moving pictures telling the story of the manufacture of celebrated foodstuffs from the planting of the seed to the consumers' table; demonstrations of the uses to which all the principal food products may be put, and a baking contest, the winners in which will receive substantial and valuable rewards in the shape of modern and unique household appliances. The lessons which the housewife may draw from this exposition are priceless, and every Washington woman should avail herself of this wonderful opportunity.

To Give Away Packages.
Prof. Snyder and Mrs. Snyder, in addition to mixing the ingredients of many famous recipes before the audience and lecturing on food values and standards, will also judge the baking contest and comment on the articles entered. They will also distribute a number of their choice recipe books free. The Westfield pure food book, containing a wealth of valuable information, will be sold at a ridiculously low price.

Samples of all the food products displayed at the exposition will be liberally served by the expert demonstrators and there will be packages given to the spectators to take home. The pies, cakes, bread, and pastry entered in the baking contest will be given to a local charity organization after the household appliances have been awarded to the winners.

The Westfield exposition came to Washington today from Philadelphia, Pa., where thousands of women were unable to get into the hall where it was conducted.

Moral: Go to the Arcade Auditorium early each day this week if you wish to hear the lectures on cooking and see the pure food demonstrations and exhibits.

ASKS U. S. TO DEMAND MEXICO INDEMNITIES

The United States Government is asked to make immediate demands on Carranza for payment of indemnities to the families of the eighteen Americans murdered in the recent Santa Teal massacre, by Honore Palmer, of Chicago, one of the employers of the slain men.

Palmer had a preliminary conference with Secretary Lansing yesterday. He was told that the United States had not obtained what it considered sufficient legal evidence to press Carranza for indemnity payment at this time. The Chicagoan will have another conference with Secretary Lansing tomorrow. The Palmer interests own the Cui mine in Chihuahua, to which the Americans were returning when they were waylaid and slain.

The State Department has been advised of the outbreak of bandit raiding in the Tuxpam oil districts, which had been quiet for weeks.
